BIG FOUR

SOCIETY PROVIDED SPLENDID PROGRAM MONDAY MORNING, MARCH TENTH.

Representatives of the "Big Four Society" from the Business University were the entertainers during the Chapel hour last Monday morning.

The program rendered by them was very delightful. It follows: Several selections by their orchestra which is composed of seven pieces. This musical aggregation demonstrated that it is the real article, and we welcome it back any time.

A male quintet sang several delightful numbers which were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Joe Hailey gave a reading entitled "The Baseball Game," which she handled as though she were an artist in this respect. Needless to say it was immensely appreciated.

Miss Helen Ragsdale afforded a vocal solo to the delight of everyone and Mrs. Houser furnished a violin solo accompanied by Miss Herman at the piano. This selection was a very delightful one.

Prof. Jones, of the Business University, concluded the program with a few brief remarks, and especially extended an invitation to us to attend their chapel exercises whenever we desired, giving us every assurance that we are always welcome.

Seldom are we fortunate enough to be graced during our Chapel exercises with such a program, and we extend to the "Big Four Society" our sincere appreciation of the entertainment provided by them.

WELDON PEETE

IS NOW THE MANAGER OF THE DEBATING TEAM.

Jimmie Chandler has resigned as manager of the debating team and Weldon Peete has been elected to succeed him.

We believe that this is Peete's first connection with the managing of any of the school activities. A better man is not to be found in the college for he certainly does attend to business.

It is hoped that he will have the honor of being our next basketball manager, and if he is, there is no doubt but what he will perform the duties of that position in a creditable manner.

MICH. UNIVERSITY

Has Admitted Prof. Lee to Unconditional Graduate Standing on Sole Basis of Ogden Standing.

Prof. William C. Lee has been admitted to the graduate school of the University of Michigan. It is understood that he intends to pursue the study of Chemistry at this University.

However there is no cause for alarm, among the students, as this does not indicate that he will quit in the near future the position that he now holds at this College, that is, Professor of the Science Department.

At least, every student in Ogden, and when I say every student I mean one hundred per cent to the man, is hoping that it does not mean for two or three years at least as every student here at present hopes that Prof. Lee remains until his graduation, for there was never a teacher of whom pupils were more fond.

But it also indicates something else that is of interest to every Ogden man who intends to pursue his studies after the completion of Ogden—that is it goes to show the high rating that our graduates obtain at the best universities of the land, for Michigan occupies a place in the front rank.

It is hoped that this rating obtained by Prof. Lee will go a long way toward clearing up the situation for some of those uncertain about our rating.

CHEER LEADER

ELECTED TO SUCCEED MR. KINSLOW WHO IS TO BE LOST THRU GRADUATION.

David Hall Sledge was elected cheer leader for next year during the chapel hour, March 3rd.

But the choice fell on him only after a very lengthy discussion as well as after several extremely warm and ardent speeches by supporters of their respective nominees.

In fact, there were two men nominated—Howerton and Sledge, and when the vote upon these two men came to a head there was a tie.

Amos and Temple were backing up Howerton, for the place, while Kinslow and Burton discoursed at length upon the respective merits of the two gentlemen, and then rallied their forces to the support of Sledge.

However, Amos and Temple returned tit for tat but the opposition finally scratched up a man from some-

PROFESSOR LEE

IS BUSINESS MANAGER OF THE PLAY "SAFETY FIRST."

Prof. William C. Lee is managing the business end of the play now under way. This fact goes a long way toward insuring that the play will be a success, for he is an experienced organizer, a man who has the earnest support and backing of every Ogden student, which fact will enable him to put across the ticket campaign in a highly successful manner.

Another fact that makes him all the more qualified for the position is this; he has been connected or taken part in plays ever since he was knee high to a duck (if we may use that expression). Among this number are several in which he has taken a major role since coming to Ogden. This experience enables him to know all the ends and outs of staging a theatrical production. One in particular is recalled just now—Miss Lee, for he was a vamp in this particular production, made a hit with theatre goers that few members of the feminine sex are privileged to do. After the play he received six proposals to be exact, from would-be grooms. These did not understand the nature of the play or they would have known that the heart-breaking vamp was none other than "Our own Professor".

Fellows, let's give our unstinted support to Prof. Lee and help him to put this play over in a creditable manner.

MARCH 29

Possibly none of us ever think of events in terms of dates, but March 29 will mean another step forward, another step toward a better Ogden, almost the capping climax of our new proposed building. On that day the trustees will open the sealed bids for the construction of the new building, and if any bids are acceptable, will let the contracts.

The work must be begun at once and pushed as much as possible according to the terms of the bidding. This will no doubt result in the completion of the building before school starts next year.

where who broke the tie in their favor, much to their elation.

Let it be said that all was done in a good spirit and that Mr. Sledge is as able a cheer leader as the school boasts.

"SAFETY FIRST"

To Be Staged April 3rd, at Diamond Theatre by Ogden Students Under Direction of Preston Cherry.

"Bowling Green is to have another treat!" That's what the cast-coveters of "Safety First" say, and we believe them. Everybody was afraid we weren't going to stage a play this year, but we're mighty glad to see our Shieks shaking the rust off the hero and villain stuff again. And our dear little co-eds are just tickled to death at a chance to show off.

"Safety First" is a three-act Comedy-Farce, the best of its kind in the Amateur field, and the first to be given by an all-Ogden cast since "The Hoodoo," put on four years ago at the Opera House.

We are very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Preston Cherry, who will direct the play. Mr. Cherry, although not a professional producer has had a great deal of experience, both as an actor and a director. With him to direct and a large number of talented amateurs from which to select a cast, we are assured of seeing a good play well given.

Competition for a place on the cast is keen. It is reported—and we hesitate to print it—that two of our most popular co-eds, Miss Alice Temple and Miss Cordelia Lawrence, engaged in fistie combat Tuesday morning, as a result of a heated argument concerning their relative merits as interpreters of the Oriental hootchy-kootchy dance. Girls, be careful!

We are also told that dainty little Miss Hallie Mae Lashmit and bewitching Pauline Eisenhart are eager contenders for a berth on the Class-Skipping Team.

Mr. Walter Pickles has announced that he is willing to enact the hero's part, and everybody knows that this is making Claude Kinslow mad—positively mad!

For a villain we hope the director will consider Mr. Nick Carter Massey.

Primarily and educationally, the purpose of the play is to give the people of Bowling Green something worth while and enjoyable.

Secondarily or financially the proceeds are to be turned over to the Athletic Association. Two good reasons for giving it.

Slackers and knockers see Jack Smith in the horselot at your earliest convenience, and he will endeavor to straighten you out.

TRADITION

Such is the tradition about Ogden that even the disappearance of a door key, worth about a quarter, gives sufficient grounds for a campus wide disturbance. The other morning in chapel everyone was astonished by the peculiar actions of President Whittle during the excellent program rendered by the "Big Four" orchestra. After its termination he mentioned something that caused the older students to start a crusade to find the guilty party.

The front door key had disappeared. That famous old key that the "Major" had turned so many times, that old key that General ePrry and other men whose impress Ogden will ever bear have so often turned. The act came as a shock to everyone. No one dreamed that there was a person within our walls who would commit such an offense.

Not long after chapel, however, the glad word was passed through the rooms that the key had re-appeared in perfect condition. Boys, or rather, those who have not caught the true Ogden spirit, Ogden is yours, do with it as you wish, but remember that there are several hundred more who have a say in what is done, and that, though you may get away with some infamous act against the school, remember that your classmates are measuring you with the Ogden yardstick of true blue spirit.

HOME IN AMERICA.

I have gathered shells along the beach where the blue waters of the Atlantic ocean wash the white sands with their rolling billows. I have watched the majestic ships coming into the port of New York laden with their cargoes from the many countries of the world. I have bathed in the tepid waters off the coast of Florida where the flowers are ever blooming and shedding their fragrance and rich perfume; but amid all these surroundings there has always been present in my heart and uppermost in my mind an ever-increasing reverence and love for the little old house back in Kentucky that I could call my home.

I have seen the half-naked children of the Bermudas cling to their filthy-clad mothers. I have walked through the grimy streets of the slums of Boston. I have gone through the "Chinatown" districts of New York and Philadelphia. I have passed through the palm decked streets of Jacksonville and other Florida cities. I have seen the skum of our Kentucky towns; yet among all these I noticed one thing in common, that all had an ideal of a home and seemed to cherish their surroundings, however lowly.

I have seen the old salty sailor who has sailed the seas for decades and who seems to be immune to all emotions. I have been with my shipmates when they got hilarious while in port or ashore. I have heard the vilest of men curse everything and everybody; yet not one of these have I heard say anything against their home or their planned home. It was "home" that held them in restraint. I have seen the strongest willed men break down and almost cry because they could not return home after their term expired.

"Home." I know not what emotions are aroused in the Spaniard when he says, "A casa", or in the Frenchman when he says "Maison"; but I do know that when the American says, "Home" he associates with it all that is sweet and tender. The American Nation was founded upon the basis of home. When the early settlers first came without their families and in search of gold and adventure, nothing was accomplished, but when the sturdy English Puritan moved his family across the ocean in search of a home, the Indians gave way and a nucleus was formed about which the network of our great nation has been formed.

The French failed in America because of their carefree and roving spirit. They did not build homes, nor did they want any. The English settlers came in quest of freedom, liberty and a place to call home, found them, and founded a nation. The French and Spanish came for gold and adventure, found them, but lost a continent.

When the adventurer and hunter crossed the Appalachian mountains the Indians were able to meet them man for man and hold their own, and in most instances outwit the hunter in skulking. But what the stalwart backwoodsman appeared upon the scene the French hunter and the Indian were driven back to make room for more American homes.

Then the American goes upon the battlefield, he does not fight for the Nation except to defend his home and loved ones, for "home" to the true American does not mean a house, a bed and three meals, or so much service for nothing, it means a mother, a group of loved ones, a place to welcome him back when all the world seems to cast him out into darkness.

Since the progress of America has been merely the progress of the home, the student of history can deduct his own conclusions as to the present progress of our country.

TOURNAMENT

IS NOW UNDER WAY IN THE PREP DEPARTMENT.

The Prep Oratory Class has been divided into seventeen teams, each consisting of three members and a debating tournament is now being held.

Two debates occur each week during class hour and it will continue in this manner until the finals and semi-finals. These will in all probability be held in Chapel.

The members of the winning team will be awarded medals and these will be presented during Commencement.

It will be an honor indeed to be the recipient of one of these medals and every Prep is striving to be one of the three out of fifty-one men so honored.

This is also a fine manner by which to foster interest in this centuries old art, the art of debating, and of disputation.

It has been said that the aim of debating lies not so much in the furthering of the command of ready wit as in the development of the power of persuasion. If the Preps are awake to the present opportunity a life time benefit can be gained by each and every one of them in several different ways.

Todd Hayes, who has been very sick with typhoid fever for several weeks, is now improving rapidly and seems to be getting along as nicely as possible after being as sick as he has been. We hope Todd will soon be with us again and that his illness will be a thing of the past.

BETHEL BOWS TO VARSITY IN FINAL THRILLER

VARSITY BASKETBALL SEASON A SUCCESS

The 1923-24 Varsity basketball season at Ogden was clearly indicative of the steady advance that has been going on in Ogden athletics for the past year. Several features contribute toward making the season so successful. Chief among them was the fact that a much harder schedule containing only teams of college and university ranking was satisfactorily met, the Collegians winning ten of their sixteen games. The results were as follows:

Ogden 30; Alumni 17.
Ogden 47; Gallatin Private Institute 17.
Ogden 39; Southwestern Presbyterian University 47.
Ogden 25; Bethel 33.
Ogden 50; Morton Elliot 18.
Ogden 27; Berea 38.
Ogden 31; Union 22.
Ogden 39; Morton Elliot 11.
Ogden 31; Southwestern Presbyterian University 15.
Ogden 40; Bryson 29.
Ogden 17; Cumberland University 19.
Ogden 49; Penbody 34.
Ogden 33; Gallatin Private Institute 23.
Ogden 20; Cumberland University 39.
Ogden 20; Tennessee Tech. 48.
Ogden 23; Bethel 15.

Total, Ogden 521; Opponents 426.
The gratifying events of the season were the defeating of S. P. U. for the first time in Ogden's athletic relations with that institution, and the eight point* drubbing administered our old friend Bethel.

Several things happened during the season that tried the morale of the squad with the acid test but there was no let-up in the work of the men. When Captain McGinley was declared ineligible, there were many blue faces among the student body but the squad rallied around Captain Smith and won three of the five remaining games. Then, too, when the team returned from the Tennessee trip with every member sick, it looked as if there was very little chance of defeating Bethel. However, the Eastern Kentucky trip was cancelled and every effort was made to get the men back into shape as soon as possible. Practices were resumed and Bethel went home minus a scalp.

Such examples as these indicate that there is strong spirit somewhere and it can easily be said that both the team and Coach Johnson always looked on the bright side of things.

Doug Smith was high point man for the season, his record being two hundred points. Doug's playing is always clean and his work is always a credit to the institution.

The squad had forty-seven practice periods during the season. Much larger crowds were in attendance at the games. The team was composed of college department students only.

Only one man will be lost as the result of the May graduations. Charlie Cook, forward and guard, will get his sheepskin and be one of the members of the Alumni which is defeated at the opening of each season of an Ogden sport. Charlie has been a real asset to the team and will be greatly missed when the first call is given next year. We can only hope that we can get someone as good to take his place.

There are many other things that we can say about the basketball squad that has just disbanded, but the limited space does not permit. All we can say is that we hope that progress will continue in basketball as well as in the other Ogden sports and that all of the Cardinal squads will pattern after the netmen of 1923-24 for spirit, work and sportsmanship.

The letter men are P. McGinley (Capt.), J. Smith (Capt.), D. Smith, Cook, Cledge, Taylor, Amos, Hartford, Howerton and Manager Temple.

A wonderful opportunity is now open for some of the younger students to make themselves useful as water and bat boys for the baseball team. Little John Lawrence of Florida made himself famous at Ogden serving in this capacity and his absence this year is greatly felt.

Mr. Paul Eisenhart, the well known Senior, has been elected as Treasurer of the Athletic Association. Mr. Eisenhart is well known as a prominent young business man of Bowling Green

Baseball Practice In Full Swing

With the coming of warm (?) weather baseball practice has been started in earnest and every afternoon finds about 30 of the Ogden hopefuls at Ogden field going through the various maneuvers laid out by Coach Johnson. Hard work occupies most of the practice periods as the time is extremely short until the season opens with the Alumni.

Manager Mansfield is to be congratulated upon his schedule for the season. Baseball has never been the sport that it should be at Ogden on account of the early closing of school but Mr. Mansfield has engineered his schedule so that everything works out satisfactorily to all parties. The schedule is as follows:

April 1—Alumni (here)
April 4-5—Southwestern Presbyterian University (at Clarksville)
April 8—Bethel (at Russellville)
April 12—Morton Elliott (here)
April 18-19—Open (away)
April 25-26—Gallatin Private Institute (here)
April 29—Bethel (here)
May 2-3—Tennessee Tech (pending at Cookeville)
May 8-9—Southwestern Presbyterian University (here)
May 16—Morton Elliott (at Elkton)
May 17—Gallatin Private Institute (at Gallatin)
May 23-24—Open (away)

Manager Mansfield is very anxious to get the two open dates filled as soon as possible. However, the games must be played away from Bowling Green and the teams played must be of college or university caliber.

It is yet too early to pick the season's nine but it can safely be said that we are to have a much stronger aggregation than we were able to produce last year. Practically all of last year's men are back in uniform and with the addition of the new material, Coach Johnson has a much better seasoned group to work with. The spirit is unusually good.

PREPS LOSE DISTRICT CROWN

After defeating one of the strongest teams entered in the Third District Tournament, Ogden Preps lost the second contest to Richpond High School by a two point margin. The Preps were District champions last year and were the favorites for this season. However, Lady Luck flew from their standard on the second

23 TO 15 TALLY AGAIN HUMBLER ANCIENT FOE; COOK ENDS BASKETBALL CAREER.

The Varsity basketball squad closed its rather eventful season on the local floor March 12th when they vanquished our famous rival, Bethel, by hanging up the score of 23 to 15. The game was interesting from start to finish although it was evident that Ogden would be the victor a short time after the first whistle.

The brand of ball played was of the variety that kept the referee, Mr. P. A. Stevens, unusually busy. A total of forty-four personal fouls was called during the game.

Ogden started with a rush. The entire squad had been sick since returning from Tennessee the latter part of February and had been forced to cancel the Eastern Kentucky trip for the week previous the Bethel game. However, they were in the prime of condition when they met the Baptists and they amassed thirteen points before the visitors were able to score. The first half ended 14 to 3.

The second period found Ogden losing most of the regulars via the personal foul route but the subs were able to fill their places. Bethel brought in 12 points to Ogden's 9 in this section but 6 of the 12 resulted from free throws.

Ogden's eight point victory evens basketball matters with the Logan countians as they defeated the Collegians by an eight point margin at Russellville earlier in the season. The football victory of last fall still tilts our side of the ledger to a comfortable degree.

This game marked the end of Charlie Cook's basketball career at Ogden, as he is graduating in May. This is Cook's first and last year at Ogden, but it can easily be said that he is one of the most popular boys in school. He is an Ogden booster and will be missed greatly next year.

Lineups and summary in the Bethel game were:

Ogden		Bethel
Smith, D. (13)	F	(4) Newman
Taylor (4)	F	(5) Bacon
Amos (3)	C	(3) Barnes
Smith, J.	G	Eads
Cook (2)	G	(2) Sahlie

Substitutions: Ogden — Hartford for Brown, Sledge for Taylor, Brown (2) for Amos, McGinley for Smith, D., Schwartz for Cook. Bethel—Taylor for Newman, Day (1) for Sahlie. Referee—Stevens, "Y" College.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Temple.

The efforts of our friend "Brains" Taylor as referee in the recent All-City Junior Basketball Tournament can be appreciated by anyone accustomed to the old order of local basketball officials. On trips, Ogden teams are subjected to the strictest of referees but up to this year, it has been almost impossible to obtain a satisfactory official in Bowling Green. Let's hope that the good work continues.

SCHOOL NOTES

Charlie Cook was in an automobile accident several days ago and he narrowly escaped serious injury, as the automobile of which he was an occupant, was headed into a

His back was slightly wrenched and Devore is one of Bowling Green's most talented and accomplished hear her.

She delighted her hearers with sev-

We look forward to having Miss hard struggle.

Wallop B. G. High Squad.

The first game found the youngsters facing Bowling Green High five which was judged as one of the strongest squad entered in the tournament.
After a somewhat hectic battle, the Preps forged ahead to the long end of a 23 to 11 score.

The Richpond Waterloo came Saturday morning at 8:30. The Preps had trounced the Richpond lads with a 54 to 30 score earlier in the season and everything pointed in favor of the Ogdenites. However, the result was different from what was expected.
The score in this game was 26 to 24.

EXCELSIOR

The shades of night were falling fast,
As in the barn the old horse passed,
But soon he did begin to bray,
For in his trough—instead of hay—
Excelsior!

Into the coop the grey hen walked,
But just inside the door she balked,
With joy she heaved her speckled breast,
Some one had made her a nice new nest—
Excelsior!

The moon was shining overhead;
I tossed and rolled upon my bed,
For many a splinter scratched my back;
The mattress contained, alas, alack--
Excelsior!

And as I write this little verse
I cannot help but fear the worst;
Without a doubt I am not sane,
My head is filled with—no, not brain—
Excelsior!
